

The definition of un-skilled/semi-skilled/skilled/highly skilled worker will be as under:—

- (i) Unskilled.—An unskilled worker is one who does operations that involve the performance of simple duties, which require the experience of little or no independent judgment or previous experience although familiarity with the occupational environment is necessary. His work may thus require in addition to physical exertion familiarity with variety of articles or goods.
- (ii) Semi-skilled.—A semi-skilled worker is one who does work generally of defined routine nature wherein the major requirement is not so much of the judgment and skill but for proper discharge of duties assigned to him or relatively narrow job and where important decisions are made by others. His work is thus limited to the performance of routine operations of limited scope.
- (iii) Skilled.—A skilled worker is one who is capable of working efficiently of exercising considerable independent judgment and of discharging his duties with responsibility. He must possess a thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the trade, craft or industry in which he is employed.
- (iv) Highly Skilled.—A highly skilled worker is one who is capable of working efficiently and supervises efficiently the work of skilled workers.
